

*We are, each of us,
in our physical selves,
a unique and complex
arrangement of elements,
-- though ubiquitous is our basic format and design as humans -- an arrangement of elements which have continually been and will eternally be cycled throughout the universe to be manifested at one time or another in its infinite possibilities.*
