

Like it or Not

In any form of democratic government, governance details are ultimately the full reflection of the values, morality and intellect of the electorate.

So when you go to bitch about the government and how things are, remember that your values, morality and intellect are therein represented to the degree you have chosen to participate in the electoral process resulting in that governance.

It is no defence to puff yourself up indignantly, look down your nose and say, “Well, I didn’t vote for that!”

That may well be, but you and your ilk have tolerated the system which allows it, and you’ll just have to carry the can for that.
