

Rainbows and Dreams

*Blue denim jacket
Worn like his levis
Faded and dusty and old
Battered old knapsack,
Hat and bandana
Hair longish, curly and gold*

*Throat dry and thirsty
Slow weary footsteps
Pounding the pavement like stone
Eyes sayin', "I've been there,
And it ain't been easy!
Momma, I'm comin' back home"*

*This mother's son's been a-travellin'
A hot burning need to fulfill
The wanderlust seems to be gone now
And most of the road's been uphill
This mother's son's been a-travellin'
Following rainbows and dreams
It's taken some time but he knows now
This life it just ain't what it seems*

*Momma, I've seen it
Momma, I'm lonely
Momma, I miss you and Dad
Momma, I'm sorry
That I took for granted
The wonderful home that we had*

*The sun's setting slowly
The darkness is growing
The cars they just whiz right on by
Looks like tomorrow
Home will be nearer
Wishing I were there tonight*

*This mother's son's been a-travellin'
A hot burning need to fulfill
The wanderlust seems to be gone now
And most of the road's been uphill
This mother's son's been a-travellin'
Following rainbows and dreams
It's taken some time but he knows now
This life it just ain't what it seems*
