

Respect

It is the epitome of wisdom to respect all things that you do not understand.

It is only when you have absolutely complete, sure-handed understanding of a thing in absolutely all of its aspects that you may reasonably opt to withhold your full respect for it.

*Now ask yourself,
when was the last time you were
that certain of anything,
and go from there!*